

Siena Heights University

Commencement 2026

The mission of Siena Heights, a Catholic University founded and sponsored by the Adrian Dominican Sisters, is to assist people to become more competent, purposeful and ethical through a teaching and learning environment which respects the dignity of all.

Founded in 1919 as St. Joseph College, the institution was renamed Siena Heights College in 1939. In 1998, the college became Siena Heights University.

The University seal, originally designed for Siena Heights College in 1939, is based on the escutcheon of the Adrian Dominican Congregation and the centuries-old Dominican Shield. The shield on the seal combines traditional design elements with a wavy line symbolizing the heights (highs and lows) and an open book representing the pursuit of knowledge.

Siena Heights University Honors Program

The Siena Heights University Honors Program gave highly motivated students the opportunity to enrich their undergraduate experience with innovative academics and a personalized curriculum.

Honors courses were not “harder” in the traditional sense but challenged students to grow in directions shaped by their interests and opinions, giving them additional opportunities to be innovative and creative. Honors Program graduates wear the Honors Program medallion today to signify their completion of the program’s requirements.

 Students with this Halo icon beside their name are recognized as Honors Program graduates.

Academic Traditions

Academic costumes date from 12th century Europe when gowns and hoods were worn to distinguish scholars. The long, flowing gowns were also worn for warmth inside drafty university buildings. The resemblance of academic gowns to monks' robes isn't coincidental. Most scholars of that era were also members of the clergy. A wide variety of styles of academic costumes were worn in the United States until the Intercollegiate Code for Academic Costumes was adopted in 1895 to establish uniformity. Most American colleges and universities today adhere to the code, which distinguishes costumes worn by holders of bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. Although the code doesn't include regulation for the associate's degree holders' gowns, at Siena Heights University, these gowns are the same as the bachelor's gowns.

Associate and bachelor degree holders wear blue gowns with the sleeve shape distinguishing the degree. Bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves, while the sleeves of the master's gown are oblong with the sleeve back extending to the knees. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves, with three horizontal bars in colored velvet corresponding to the degree. Holders of the associate's, bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degree wear the same flat mortarboard cap with a black tassel. Doctors have the option of wearing a gold tassel or choosing a velvet floppy hat in the European tradition. The hood's size and trim colors tell the most about the wearer. Hoods worn by bachelor's degree holders are two feet long with two-and-a-half inch trim; master's hoods are three-and-a-half feet long with three inch trim; and doctor's hoods are four feet long with five inch trim.

The trim color of the hood indicates the type of degree the wearer holds:

Citron—Social Work
Dark Blue—Philosophy
White—Arts, Letters, Humanities
Beige—Business, Accounting
Sage Green—Physical Education
Pink—Music

Lemon Yellow—Library Science
Golden Yellow—Science
Orange—Applied Science
Scarlet—Theology
Purple—Law
Light Blue—Education
Brown—Art
Apricot—Nursing

The Siena Mace

The mace is an emblem of authority and prestige used to indicate the official opening of ceremonies. Siena's original mace was designed in 1968 by Dr. Jeannine Klemm, OP '44, Professor of Art.

The new mace was designed and crafted by John Wittersheim, Professor of Art, assisted by Roger Snyder '85. Wittersheim altered the design of the original mace and added the seals of the Adrian Dominican Sisters, the University, and the State of Michigan.

The President's Medallion

The President's Medallion has at its center a shield of eight alternate gyrons of silver and black with a fleur-de-lis cross, the symbol of faith. Superimposed on one-quarter of the shield is a book, the symbol of learning. The shield is appropriately placed on a white field of ivory, the symbol of purity. The ivory form is placed on a silver circular sphere which symbolized the never-ending quest for knowledge. The fleur-de-lis is a symbol of the original Dominican Foundation in Prouille, France.

The President's Medallion was designed by Dr. Jeannine Klemm, OP '44. It was recrafted, faithful to the original design parameters, by the Siena Heights University Metalsmithing program under the watchful eye of Professor John Wittersheim.

Siena Heights University Alma Mater

Composed by Bettianne A. Collins-King, '43

Arranged by Susan Matych-Hager, '68

Sweet golden days of dreams,
Siena we've known with you,
Long laughter studded hours with classmates fond and true.

So in the deepest gratitude for years that too swiftly fly, we rise and give our thanks to you before we say goodbye.

We bear the torch you have given us;
the torch and the shield of truth.

In the Love of God you've taught us and the courage of our youth.

We never will forget you for the promises we have made to meet life bravely gallantly by our faith kept unafraid.

Dear Alma Mater, staunch and true,
Veritas enfolds you, Siena,
all hail to you.

Dear Alma Mater, staunch and true.
Veritas enfolds you, Siena,
Here's to you!

World on Fire (2026)

Composed by Katahj Copley (b. 1998)

Commissioned to commemorate the legacy and mission of Siena Heights University (1919–2026)

The world is lost through silence.
I once held my tongue
and said nothing.
Though it filled me with grief,
I was silent.

Then my heart was stirred and a fire was kindled inside me, until at last I cried out and proclaimed the truth
as if I had a million voices:
“It is silence that kills the world!”

If you are the flame
that takes away the cold,
If you are the light
that illuminates the mind,
If you are the truth
that shatters silence,
If you are who you must be,
you will set the world on fire!

Love never gives up,
but endures through all things.
Love burns like blazing fire,
like a mighty flame that takes away the cold.
Love does not stay idle;
love transforms.
Be transformed!

Be transformed,
not conform to the patterns of the world.

If you are the flame
that takes away the cold,
If you are the light
that illuminates the mind,
If you are the truth
that shatters silence,
If you are who you must be,
you will set the world on fire!

As I Walk the Earth

Poem written by former Siena Heights University student Chetna Sidhu.

As I walk the Earth
I set the world on fire
Burning the thieves, fools, and liars
Footprints emblazoned
Where I've tracked
Igniting passions in those I've met
My pen lights the way in the dark
In winter, keeps warm the larks
My words shining as a crown clad in Gold
The spirit of Siena never grows old
On the head of scholars laurels rest
But not ours do they rest -
For we wear the circum of flames.
